Eunice Kennedy Shriver
ONE WOMAN'S VISION

EUNICE KENNEDY SHRIVER

1921 - 2009

ONE WOMAN'S VISION

As founder and honorary chairperson of Special Olympics, Eunice Kennedy Shriver was a leader in the worldwide struggle to improve and enhance the lives of individuals with intellectual disabilities for more than five decades.

Born in Massachusetts, the fifth of nine children of Joseph and Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy, Eunice dedicated her life to helping others. After college, she became a social worker for a women's penitentiary, then worked with the House of the Good Shepherd and the juvenile court. When Eunice took over the direction of the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation, she helped achieve many significant advances for citizens with intellectual disabilities. The Foundation established the President's Committee on Mental Retardation, the National Institute for Child Health and Human Development, university-affiliated facilities and mental retardation research centers at medical schools across the United States, the establishment of Special Olympics, the study of medical ethics at Harvard and Georgetown Universities, as well as the institution of "Community of Caring" centers and programs in 1200 schools to reduce intellectual disabilities among babies of teenagers.

Recognized throughout the world for her efforts on behalf of persons with intellectual disabilities, Eunice received many honors, awards and honorary degrees throughout her lifetime. President Reagan awarded her the Presidential Medal of Freedom, and she was honored for her work with Special Olympics in 2005, as one of the first recipients of a sidewalk medallion on The Extra Mile Point of Light Pathway in Washington D.C.

Today, more than four million Special Olympic athletes are training year-round in all 50 states and 181 countries. They run races, toss softballs, lift weights, ski moguls, volley tennis balls and pirouette on skates. There are World Summer Games, which just occurred last year in Los Angeles, California, and World Winter Games, which will be staged in Austria in 2017. Schooling, medical treatment and athletic training have all changed for people with intellectual disabilities as a result of Shriver's vision...more important, so have minds, attitudes, and laws.

It is through her relentless determination, passion, courage and the hard work of her and many others that her vision is being realized by millions of people the world over. She has inspired people around the globe to become believers and follow in her footsteps.

“As we hope for the best in them, hope is reborn in us” – Eunice Kennedy Shriver

SPECIAL OLYMPICS MISSION

The mission of Special Olympics is to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy and participate in the sharing of gifts, skills and friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes and the community.

SPECIAL OLYMPICS FLORIDA – Miami-Dade County

Special Olympics Florida - Miami-Dade County serves 6,500 athletes and offers training and competition in a total of 17 team and individual sports. These athletes are trained by 300 volunteer coaches, and are supported and encouraged by more than 1,200 event volunteers statewide. Special Olympics Florida – Miami-Dade County has over 120 local, registered training programs.

Intellectual disability does not discriminate. Athletes who participate in Special Olympics come in all ages, ethnicities and social backgrounds. However, a significant number of athletes live in urban areas and come from lower socioeconomic groups.

Special Olympics athletes are given opportunities to participate without regard to economic, demographic, religious, or social factors. Activities exist for those of all ability levels, from the highly functioning to the severely challenged. Anyone can participate in Special Olympics if they meet the eligibility criteria of having intellectual disabilities or a similar developmental disability.

Neither athletes nor parents are charged a fee to participate in the program, Special Olympics provides free sports training and competition year-round. This is not to say these services are free, they are actually very expensive and only possible because of the support of the Miami-Dade County community. Through generous philanthropy, we can continue our mission to replace fear, stigma and oppression with possibility and opportunity for the Intellectually Disabled.

On behalf of our 47,000 athletes and 31,000 volunteers, I want to thank you for choosing to be a Champion of Special Olympics Florida. Your support offers a limitless amount of opportunities for individuals with intellectual disabilities to enhance their skills, improve their health and build more confidence. Because of you, athletes are able to begin their journey in Special Olympics activities as early as age two and continue competing decades later, with our senior athletes nearing almost 90 years old. Your impact also reaches far beyond the playing field. The skills our athletes learn through Special Olympics prepare them to be better contributors in their local communities and society. They are coaches, mentors, hold positions on school councils, and are employed by local businesses. Through the vehicle of sport, Special Olympics is transforming attitudes to be more inclusive and accepting of individual differences, encouraging everyone that when in doubt - "Choose to Include."

Thank you for Choosing to Include and your support for Special Olympics Florida!

Sherry Wheelock
President & CEO

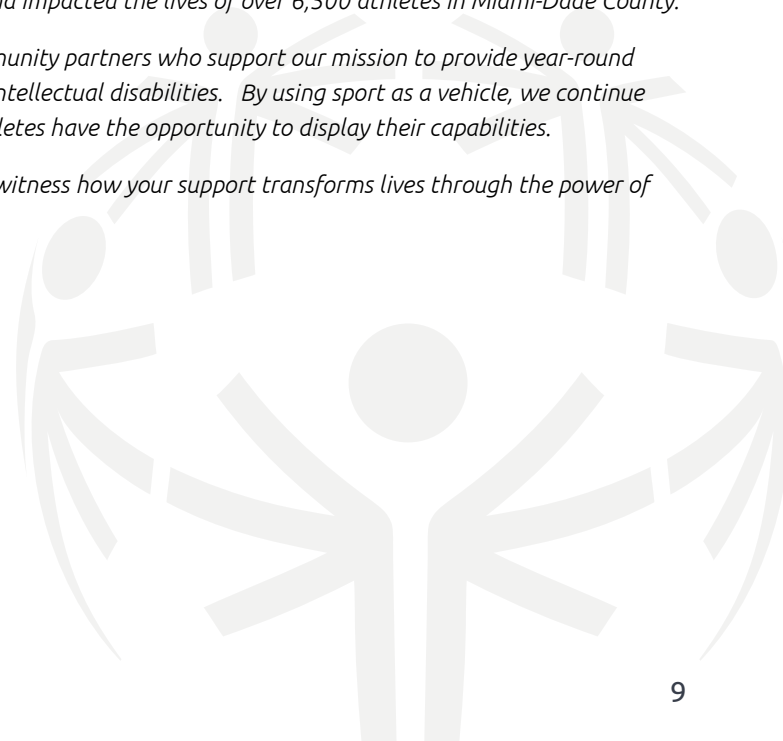

Special Olympics Florida – Miami-Dade County is honored to celebrate our most deserving athletes, coaches and volunteers at our 2018 Athlete Awards. We applaud their achievements that have inspired and impacted the lives of over 6,500 athletes in Miami-Dade County.

Our work would not be possible without the commitment of our community partners who support our mission to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition for children and adults with intellectual disabilities. By using sport as a vehicle, we continue moving forward to create an inclusive, accepting world where our athletes have the opportunity to display their capabilities.

We invite all of you to attend one of our local county competitions to witness how your support transforms lives through the power of sport every day.

Join the Inclusion Revolution!

AWARD TRIBUTE

THE ANA MARIA MIYARES "FAMILY OF THE YEAR AWARD"

Special Olympics Florida, Miami-Dade County established The Ana Maria Miyares Family Of The Year Award in 2013. This award is presented to one family each year who exhibits traits that Ana Maria so clearly exemplifies. Her dedication to providing quality sports training and her love of Special Olympics has inspired Athletes, family members and volunteers to get involved.

More importantly, she has impacted the lives of countless parents who, as new mothers and fathers, questioned if they had the ability to care for a special needs child. Ana Maria has set high expectations for Andy Miyares and all of the Athletes in our program, demonstrating to parents that they can still have big dreams. And she continues to embrace those of our Athletes who have not been blessed with a family network as strong as the one that she has created for her own family.

AWARD TRIBUTE

THE CAROLE MACARTHUR “COACH OF THE YEAR AWARD”

Special Olympics Florida, Miami-Dade County established The Carole MacArthur Coach Of The Year Award in 2010. Carole MacArthur began her relationship with Special Olympics as a Coach through her role as an Adaptive Physical Education Teacher. Carole immediately recognized the value in Special Olympics mission and her love of the program was contagious. During her tenure, her Cutler Ridge Middle School delegation trained more than 100 Athletes per year.

Carole MacArthur encouraged all of her students to participate to their greatest ability, to develop their love of sport and develop their physical talents. She would not allow any hurdle to become an obstacle to an Athlete’s participation even if that meant waking up at 4:30 am to pick up Athletes for a competition. Most importantly, Carole developed positive attitudes, sportsmanship and self-esteem in her athletes. Carole passed away in 2004 after battling cancer. Her legacy continues to live on through the hundreds of Athletes and Coaches who she inspired.

AWARD TRIBUTE

THE DANNY PEREZ “INSPIRATIONAL ATHLETE OF THE YEAR AWARD”

Special Olympics Florida – Miami-Dade County established the Danny Perez Inspirational Athlete Of The Year Award in 2010. Danny Perez was born in 1973 and began participating in Special Olympics at a young age. Danny was nominated the Inspirational Athlete of the Year in 2009 at the age of 36, he then passed away in 2010 from a tragic hit-and-run accident while he was bicycling.

Danny Perez had a tremendous personality and positive attitude that motivated everyone around him to give 100% at all times. He loved the sport of basketball and also participated in softball, cycling and soccer. A well-rounded and beloved individual, he enjoyed his role as the manager of the football and basketball team at Hialeah Miami Lakes High School. Danny was ecstatic to be involved with any and all types of sports, he was well known for spending time in the bleachers after a game and sharing his vast knowledge on local, college and professional teams. Special Olympics honors the life of Danny Perez with the tribute of the Inspirational Athlete of the Year Award, so that his memory will continue to inspire Athletes forever.

Dadeland Animal Hospital

Loyalty, professionalism, quality and dedication are at the forefront of business at the Dadeland Animal Hospital, led by owner Dr. Sharon MacIvor. “Try to do something you love to do, because then it’s a bonus to be paid for it,” she comments, “there is a lot of job satisfaction in being a veterinarian, it fulfills the basic human need to be a positive person in society.” This positive outlook has, if anything, grown stronger over two decades in the veterinary business since she opened in the South Dade shopping area in the 1990’s.

Considered the “saint of animals” by her loyal customers from Coral Gables, Coconut Grove and Pinecrest, Dr. MacIvor leads a tightly-run office with awesome staff who really love animals. Every visit is a nurturing positive experience offering warm welcomes, never a cold floor for little paws and a loving environment where the employees know how to expertly hold and reassure all animals. Trust Dadeland Animal Hospital as the home for all of your pet care needs.

University of Miami

One of the nation's leading research universities, the University of Miami is a vibrant and diverse academic community focused on teaching and learning, the discovery of new knowledge, the delivery of cutting-edge medical care, and service to the region and beyond. Founded in 1925, UM has nearly 17,000 undergraduate and graduate students from around the world and has grown from its main campus in Coral Gables to include the Miller School of Medicine campus near downtown Miami and the Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science campus on Virginia Key. The University's 11 schools and colleges offer 110 bachelors, 103 master's, and 62 doctoral degree programs.

UM attracts students and faculty who are deeply committed to service. Last year alone, they donated 146,000 hours to bettering our community, both local and global. So it's hardly surprising that UM students established the first Special Olympics College in Miami-Dade County at UM. Their efforts are paving new paths of inclusion and acceptance of people with disabilities, and building awareness of just how special the Special Olympics and its athletes are.

The Donna E. Shalala MusicReach Program at the Frost School of Music provides musical experiences for students and members of the community throughout Miami-Dade. Its mission is to promote the healthy growth and development of individuals through the study, practice, and performance of music, build healthier communities by investing in the positive development of individuals through music, and develop individuals as musical ambassadors of peace, hope, and understanding amongst people of diverse cultures, backgrounds, and beliefs. Through their many programs, Frost students work closely with both children and adults throughout Miami-Dade to share a love of music and support the betterment of the community.

Rumberger, Kirk & Caldwell

Rumberger Kirk & Caldwell founders also instilled a strong commitment and culture of caring for each other, as well as the communities in which we serve. Attorneys are encouraged to participate in charitable organizations of their choice. In addition to the time and talent given to these organizations, the firm's offices participate in a wide array of community events throughout the year supporting both small and large organizations from the American Heart Association to Canine Companion for Independence. From 5k runs to chili, our employees approach philanthropy with the same vigor and zealous teamwork we apply to our daily work.

This commitment to community extends beyond our borders to our military personnel serving overseas. Giving back members of our military has been a huge part of our culture since 2009 when the firm began sending care packages to overseas troops about three times a year, usually for Memorial Day, Halloween and Christmas. Attorneys and staff spend months gathering items for the boxes. Each shipment contains between 75-80 boxes filled with personal hygiene essentials, snacks, candy, drink mixes, coffee, magazines and books hard to come by in remote parts of the world. Shipments have gone to troops from Guantanamo Bay to the Middle East.

The Orange Bowl

Created in 1935, the Orange Bowl Committee was formed for the purpose of generating tourism for South Florida through an annual football game and supporting events. The non-profit, sports organization promoting the South Florida community has grown to 360 members since its inception and expanded beyond Greater Miami to become a cornerstone of South Florida. Hosting one of college football's premiere post season bowl games, top tier basketball classics, international youth athletic competitions and other events, the Orange Bowl generates hundreds of millions of dollars for the sole purpose of making the South Florida community stronger to inspire youth and enhance the economy.

The Orange Bowl's support of higher education provides millions of dollars to high school graduating and college student athletes through scholarships and programs. The Orange Bowl's support of local organizations and causes has provided thousands to Special Olympics, Make-A-Wish and the Boys and Girl Club, to name a few. The Orange Bowl has been able to leave permanent imprints on the community with the Orange Bowl Legacy Gifts. In less than a decade, these legacy gift projects have provided approximately $10 million worth of improvements toward the beautification of the South Florida community and recreational park activities for residents and their families. The Orange Bowl is now helping mold the youth of today into leaders of tomorrow with the Orange Leadership and Character Academy.

On top of support from Committee members and staff, approximately one thousand additional community volunteers, also known as "Ambassadors," help make us, our events, and our community stronger by donating their time for a tremendous cause.

UPS Foundation

UPS founder Jim Casey established The UPS Foundation in 1951 with a mission to help build stronger and more resilient communities around the world. It has been a mission our company has been delivering on for more than 60 years now.

For UPS, giving means more than writing a check. It means taking our employees' skills, passions and time and combining them with our logistics expertise, transportation assets and charitable donations to make a measurable difference in society. In 2015, The UPS Foundation granted $54.7 million in global philanthropy to nonprofit agencies, and invested 2.35 million volunteer hours.

To meet the changing needs of the organizations and individuals we support, The UPS Foundation's philanthropic approach focuses on four areas, Community Safety, Volunteerism/ Nonprofit Effectiveness, Diversity and Environment. This represents the various facets of our mission and reflect our company's corporate values and expertise.

Understanding that volunteerism comes from the heart, giving of one's self, and not expecting anything back, we take special pride in supporting remarkable organizations like the Special Olympics. The organization has taught our volunteers to appreciate the opportunities we have been given in this lifetime. In addition, it has underscored the importance of optimism and caring for those around us. We salute the Special Olympics on their efforts and are proud to support their mission to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for children and adults with intellectual disabilities.

Beachcat Concepts

The Beachcat Concepts story began with owner, Teena Edwards. Edwards grew up surrounded by California's wine country. Her family spent weekends picking grapes in the local wine regions followed by crushing parties with other wine enthusiasts. After some home fermentation and aging, her family and friends would get together for tasting parties and share homemade meals.

In 1998, Edwards brought her wealth of Silicon Valley experience to South Florida and set up shop as Beachcat Concepts. The formula was to serve the client as if it was an in-house "arm" of their company.

In the meantime, Edwards produced Miami Wine Tasters for several years, a wine and food event network, which relaunched her love of wine and food pairings. This brought the company's focus to hospitality marketing: formulating creative themes for restaurants, hotels, and special events featuring wine and food.

Beachcat Concepts works hard to provide clients with competitive pricing, quality work and exemplary service. The company's portfolio of work showcases programs featuring business-to-business marketing and retail brand campaigns.

Beachcat Concepts is proud to support the Special Olympics and its Annual Athlete Awards Dinner!

PUBLIX

George Jenkins founded Publix with the spirit of giving in mind.

He was once asked, “If you hadn’t given away so much, how much do you think you would be worth today?”

His response, without hesitation: “Probably nothing.”

In tribute to his shining example, Publix continues to be a corporate giving leader. In addition to giving to thousands of local projects, Publix annually supports the Special Olympics. Publix customers and associates have been involved with Special Olympics for almost 40 years, supporting its mission to ensure athletes are able to participate in Olympic-style training and competitions at no cost. Publix associates volunteer in Special Olympics events and fundraisers, such as Law Enforcement Torch Run and golf tournaments. In 2018, Publix customers and associates raised more than $3.6 million for Special Olympics.

Each year in January, Publix brings awareness and funds to an organization that helps so many. Many of Publix’s very own associates compete in Local, State and National Games. Supporting Special Olympics also means supporting our associates, which is part of Publix’s commitment of being a great place to work.

The Publix logo is displayed in a bold, green, sans-serif font. A registered trademark symbol (®) is located at the top right of the word "Publix".
